SATURDAY 2ND OCTOBER 2010

Doncaster Museum, Chequer Road, Doncaster, DN1 2AE

There will be several eminent speakers talking on subjects ranging from the Holocene Insect Record, invertebrate assemblages of the Humberhead levels and the immense contribution that Peter made to the knowledge of insects in the Humberhead Levels and particularly Hatfield and Thorne Moors. The linked symposium themes are of conservation and entomology, reflecting Peter's life. The programme will begin at 10.30 and conclude at approximately 3.45.

There will be the unique experience of seeing many of Peter's remarkable illustrations of insects and a folder of prints of his work will be on sale.

The symposium fee is now £12.50 (including refreshments, lunch and delegate pack). Cheques should be made out to the Thorne & Hatfield Moors Conservation Forum.

We have been able to cut the fee by half because our costs have been greatly reduced
